THE ELECTIONS.

The Indiana Election.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—At 4 o'clock this morning the latest reports on the Congressional ticket place the first district in doubt. The Democrat elected in the second, and the 7th, 9th, 10th, ninth, and sixth districts are in doubt. In the seventh, Hanna, Republican, is probably elected. The eighth is in doubt. In the ninth Orth, Republican, is elected. The tenth and eleventh are Republican. The twelfth is Democratic, and the thirteenth Republican.

The Ohio Election.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 9.—Reliable returns from all precincts in Hamilton county, except 6, give the following: Secretary of State: Paige, dem., 22,212; Barnes, rep., 23,171; Ray, National, 488; Judge of Supreme Court: Hume, dem., 22,159; Wm. White, rep., 23,069; C. A. White, National, 454. Board of Public Works: Fields, dem., 22,203; Paul, rep., 22,816; Feltus, National, 454.

7th District—Taylor, dem., 10,921; Butterworth, rep., 11,241; Spiker, Nat., 115; Halpin, Nat., 142; Clarke, Socialist, 156.

Second District, Goss, Democrat, 11,883; Young, Republican, 10,915; Platt, National, 2467; Ruthenberg, Socialist, 156.

The Enquirer charges that in this city to fraud and corruption and voterizing of the timid by deputy U. S. Marshals, and the defeat of a portion of the Irish vote. It concedes the State by five to ten thousand majority, and claims eleven of the twenty Congressional districts, not counting Goss, Democrat in the 7th District.

The Gazette claims that Young, Republican, is elected over Goss, Democrat, and says there has been an error in counting. It claims it as a victory for honest money and the good faith of public and private contracts over the scheme of false and slippery money, which many thought would carry into office any party that adopted it. The Democratic ticket in Hamilton, O., is carried by a majority of from one to two thousand. At Chillicothe, 15 out of 23 precincts give a Republican gain of 344. The rest will increase this gain.

At Springfield the R. publican county ticket is elected by something over 1,000 majority. On Oct. 9—Hurl, Democrat, for Congress, will have a majority of from six to eight hundred.

CONTINUED. Oct. 9.—The Republican State Central Committee claims 9 Congressmen, viz: Townsend, Garfield, Updegraff, Monroe, Keifer, Neal, McKinley, Young and Butterworth. But little attention has been given to the State ticket majority, but if the aggregate keeps up to the end it has begun will probably be from 7,000 to 10,000 majority. The Democratic State Central Committee claims 11 Congressmen, certain, viz: McMahon, LeFevre, Hill, Hurl, Finley, Converse, Ewing, Dickey, Alherton, Geddes and Warner. They give the State to the Republicans. Returns thus far indicate Hubbard, Rep., for Congress in 1st District carries this county by about 4000. In this will be a majority of Wilson, Democrat, very small in the District. Three out of the 4 members of the Legislature elected are Republicans. This county has heretofore been solidly Democratic.

Electric Flashes.

It is officially announced that nothing has been done in the Afghan campaign save the active military preparations.

Orders have been issued from headquarters for all officers of the British Indian troops in Simde or the Panjab, to return to their colors.

Rev. H. Hayden, lately acquitted of the murder of Mary Stannard, of Madison, Conn., has been arrested, 50 grains of arsenic having been found, and some new evidence will be shown.

The surrender of Peter Freeman, the Bull river, S. C., murderer, will be made by the English authorities at once.

The Republican State Convention of Missouri met at St. Louis yesterday.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—In first district Heilman's election is claimed by the Republicans, but not conceded by the Democrats. In second and third districts Coff and Bicknell, Democrats, are elected. The Fourth District is doubtful, but New, Democrat, is probably elected. In the Fifth District the Republicans claim Brown's election by 850 majority, but this is not conceded by Democrats. The Sixth, Seventh and Eighth are doubtful. The Ninth District in six counties, semi-official and estimated majority, gives Orth, Republican, 241 majority. GREENSBORO LETTER.

The New Hotel—Federal Court—Politics—Hon. W. M. Robbins—Greensboro Democratic Club, &c.

Special Correspondence of the News.

GREENSBORO, Oct. 8.

The Piedmont House, under the management of Mr. J. B. Sublett, is getting a full share of the public patronage, and to-day he is renting rooms outside to accommodate the rush made upon him. As a hotelist he is a success.

The Federal court is in session.

The docket is much the same as usual—liquor and tobacco cases of small moment. It is rumored that warrants have been issued against some notorious parties in Rockingham for robbing the mail.

Politics are assuming such proportions as will secure the election of Gen. Scales by an increased vote. The Winona "scar" has subsided, and the universal antipathy against Tourgee will bring the good people of old Guilford to the front, and whenever such is the case, a good vote may be expected—and when a good vote is polled the result is sure to be right.

To-day Governor Vance and Hon. W. M. Robbins were bailed for speeches at this place. Either name was sufficient to bring out a good crowd; but when united in annual assemblage was the result. Governor Vance was not here, owing to the death of his mother. This was a disappointment—for nowhere has the Governor more or truer friends than in old Guilford. Hon. W. M. Robbins, however, came to time, as he always does when called upon by his party, and addressed a large and attentive crowd for about three hours. The speech was able, and the speaker handled the radical party with gloves off, giving a brief account of the wrongs it has inflicted upon the country since coming into power 1860. He dwelt largely upon the financial condition of the country, and enunciated the true Democratic policy, sought to be enforced during the past fifteen years of Radical misrule and oppression. The effect was a happy one and will tell for good in November next.

At night the Democratic club met in the Court House, W. P. Caldwell, Esq., in the chair. Major Robbins was again called out, and responded briefly, being too hoarse to speak at length; he was followed by Mr. Glenn of Stokes; Mr. L. C. Robbins, of Davidson; Col. J. C. Gilmer and Hon. D. T. Caldwell, of Guilford. The best of feeling prevailed, good cheer was brought from all along the line, and a glorious victory may be expected for Gen. Scales, Democracy and free government on the 5th of November next. Our club is fully alive and working after the style of 1876.

The farmers are cheerful, tobacco is turning out well and curing finely, much land is being seeded in grasses, oats and wheat, in fact old Guilford is looking up, agriculturally speaking.

Quite a number expect to visit your fair next week, notably among them B. C. Sergeant, the founder of this place, with his patent saw mill.

PITT COUNTY.

Brutal Murder at Greenville—Concealed Assassins Waylay Travelers—Suspected Parties under Arrest.

Correspondence of the News.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 7.

Saturday evening, about 10 o'clock

out of the most brutal murders occurred near this place that it has ever been my lot to record. Two young men by the name of John and Jacob

Bridley had been to town on that day and sold a bale of cotton. They had been to town on the 2d of October, and had been to town on the 2d of October, and when they had crossed the Bull River and reached the bend in the road, from which place the bridge can be seen to the rear, and the long stretch of the main road in front, they were set upon by some person or persons unknown, and one of them beat so badly over the head that he died during the night, his skull being fractured badly. The other may live.

The weapon used was near the spot where the bodies were discovered.

It was a piece of lightwood plank about four feet long, three inches wide and one inch thick. The end had been trimmed down to form a handle.

The bodies were laid in the bushes in the wheel tracks, that they might be supposed to be killed by the passers-by.

One or two parties have been arrested.

Lord Dufferin's Warning.

In a speech addressed to the Irish

Protestant Benevolent Society of Toronto, the other day, Lord Dufferin, who will soon reign the Governor-General of Canada into the hands of the Marquis of Lorne spoke very feelingly on the subject of the religious questions which affect the Dominion, and concluded as follows:

"What can be more Cain like, more insane than to import into this country, unassisted by it is any evil record of brutality and savagery, scarcely to be described, than to bring into this country such a people as the Irish, who are as ignorant and as savage as any savages in the world."

The State Guard.

Among what may now be regarded as one of the Institutions of the State is the organization of its troops known as the State Guard. A brief history of the rise and progress of this force is given, as showing what may be done with but the merest pecuniary resources, but with a true military spirit animating. Prior to 1877 the troops in the State were merely scattered company organizations, and nothing like any formation into battalions existed. In March of that year a bill, which had been prepared under the supervision of the best officers in the then existing force, was brought before the Legislature. Following the sensible, far seeing plan of other States, the bill made provision for the equipment of the force to be organized, such as would place it in such a condition as to be ready for duty at all times.

The bill, so carefully prepared to meet all necessities in the case, failed to pass in its proper form, but was finally gotten through, shorn of almost all that made it useful. In its new form it will allow the formation of the troops in battalions or regiments and brigades; and made a slight preparation for their well being. No pecuniary aid, in any shape, was to be given, and the volunteers, men who gave their money and their time, and who ever stand ready to aid their State in any way, were compelled to either do these things or else cease to exist. Other States, recognizing the absolute value and ever present need of troops, extend to such the helping hand and enable them to be always in perfect readiness for action.

But, nevertheless, under the present law the result has shown that military ardor and patriotism supply the place of material advantages. The 14 companies of troops existing prior to the passage of the State Guard law, then but partially armed, have grown and gained in power, until to-day there are 42 company organizations, which form but units in the two regiments and five battalions of which they are constituents. Able officers, with ranks filled with the youth and the veteran of a hundred battles, side by side, the State Guard is incomparable, when the brevity of its existence is considered. It is always designed for use here in any time of turbulence or danger, and subject at all times to the civil law, its mission is to aid it whenever necessary. The first encampment will be held here during the Fair, and will form one of its most attractive features.

Maximilian's widow continues to reside at Tervueren, near Brussels. Her first hallucination was that an attempt had been made to poison her in Mexico.

and that this design was still directed against her, and she refused all food which her sister-in-law, the queen of the Belgians, had not tasted. None now see her without the queen's permission, as a strange face produces serious excitement. Sometimes she puts on a splendid dress, her rooms are brilliantly lighted, and she imagines herself receiving guests, whom she addresses in various languages. She has forgotten her accomplishments in the way of music and painting. Her brother and sister-in-law, the king and queen, have all along treated her with the tenderest solicitude.

Our Duty.

The importance of the subject is our only apology for the frequent reference in these columns to the great civil duty that is now resting upon our people. It does not pertain to one of those matters of curious speculation that divide the opinions and actions of the wisest and best, as nice distinctions in literary taste or acute discriminations in philosophy, nor is it a matter upon which we can settle at leisure, after long meditation and deep thought, but demands our earnest attention and most active energy just now. The question is, shall we, the Democratic party, control the House of Representatives in the next national Congress? and we had as well confess, that the question is becoming a more serious one than it seemed a few weeks ago.

The importance to the entire country of continuing the control of the Democratic party in the House cannot be overestimated. To that body belongs especially the distribution of the money of the government, and it is a matter of prime moment that the power over the national treasury be not placed again into the reckless and wasteful hands that brought our country to the verge of bankruptcy, want into so many houses, and gloom upon so many brows but that the party of economy and honest dealing should continue the great work of retrenchment that it has inaugurated until we can once more hear the welcome hum of active business throughout our land. This happy issue is now in the hands of the people, and it would seem that it would need no word from us to make them improve the opportunity. But it is a fact that people are not always alive to their greatest interest, and we must confess that appearances in some parts of our State are not such as to encourage us. It is true that this is a peculiarly busy season of the year and large crowds are not to be expected to be found in attendance upon the speakings of our candidates, but there should be steady, active and effective work done by the Executive Committees and campaign clubs. Now are they doing this? Take this district especially. What is doing to assist the efforts of our gallant Davis? Where are the Davis clubs that should have their organizations in every county of the district? Where are the stout hearts and eloquent tongues that pressed the Democratic cause to victory in the great battles of August? It is true that here and there a devoted son can be found who never weary in their patriotic work, but the mass of the people are apparently wrapped in lethargy and are allowing the golden day of election to come upon them without any proper realization of what is involved in it. Are you insensible of the great stress of the times and do you not desire a change? Are you trusting to the large Democratic majority in this district to you more appreciative neighbors to do the voting? Are you so wedded to some person as to allow him to divorce you from your party? Are you willing to see all the grand aims of your party fail, simply to aid the personal ambition of some man? Great heavens! votary of the Metropolitan District stop and think. Consider how all we have worked for and gained up to this time may be lost by your present apathy. See the fact as it stands, that a vote for an independent is a vote for the enemy. See the encouragement you are giving the party of ruin by your callous allegiance to democracy, and in the name of patriotism and all that is noble and manly go to work for your party.

The New York Times says: A very curious chapter might be written upon the contrast between many noted localities and the names which they bear, a contrast so glaring in many cases as to suggest a prophetic irony on the part of those who named them. Salem (peace) afterward lengthened into Jerusalem, harmonizes ill with the associations of a spot which has witnessed the multiplied horrors of the three bloodiest sieges in history. The Louvre, now one of the great monuments of civilization in its highest form, literally signifies "place of wolves," with which its site once abounded. The mightiest of Asiatic rivers is styled "Clear Stream," (Syr-Daria) and Russia's oldest city is still "New Town," (Novgorod), in memory of its rank as the capital of Ruric's newly-founded State in 879. Sebastopol, an abbreviation of the Greek words sebastos polis, (august city), looks anything but august at present, with its crumbling defenses, half-destroyed docks, and long lines of roofless houses. Billingsgate, now a byword for the lowest vulgarity, originally took its name from Prince Belin; and the capital of Russian Turkistan, which stands in the midst of a clayey plain, and contains not a single stone which has not been brought from a distance, bears the unaccountable title of "Stone Village," (Tashkend).

NORTH CAROLINA can present equal if not superior inducements to any State in the Union for labor, capital and immigration.

There are about 200 different mineral species found on the American continent, of this number North Carolina contains more than 140, a larger number than has been found in any other State. A comparatively small part of these are of practical value; the rest are matters of curious scientific interest; although some of them will no doubt pass into the other category of useful minerals, with the progress of discovery and the demands of new arts and processes.

Surplus earnings are annually deducted from the rate charged, reducing the premium really paid each year to the actual cost of carrying the insurance and maintaining the reserve.

It writes only forms of policies of proven utility; and each policy provides for its conversion into paid-up insurance upon fair terms, in case of lapse.
